

In this season of thanksgiving, we especially lift our heartfelt gratitude to our Heavenly Father. By His mercy and grace, we are still able to serve Him and to serve the missionaries whom He loves.

I. Thanksgiving for the Past

As this year draws to a close, we remember with gratitude all that God has done through us:

- 1. We provided financial assistance for missionaries studying languages, easing their burden in language learning.
- 2. We organized retreats for missionaries, allowing them to set aside their ministry work for a time, leave the mission field, worship and draw near to God in a quiet place, listen to His Word, reflect on their lives and service, be renewed in strength, gain new strategies, and return to the field to continue serving.
- 3. We offered opportunities for missionaries' children to draw near to God and to connect with other MKs (missionary kids). At the same time, we provided them with various forms of educational support, witnessing a new generation of "second-generation missionaries" rising up.
- 4. Our team members have repeatedly visited mission fields to care for and accompany missionaries—supporting them in their physical, emotional, and spiritual well-being, equipping them in leadership and ministry strategies, and providing personal coaching for various ministry needs.
- 5. Every Monday from 8:00 to 9:00 p.m. US Eastern Time, we faithfully pray for the missionaries, that they may serve the Lord safely and powerfully.

II. Looking Ahead to the New Year

As the new year approaches, we plan to continue these ongoing ministries and also hope to begin new ones:

- 1. Provide in-person leadership training for mission leaders through lectures, discussions, mutual service, and listening to one another, to develop more mission-minded leaders.
- 2. Hold retreats for high school MKs so they may be well equipped during their teenage years, overcome various temptations, and learn to serve others.
